TOURNAMENT'S GREAT SURPRISE.

He Starts at 80 to 1 and Wins the Great Eastern Handicap.

GOSSIP ABOUT TO-DAY'S BOAT RACE

An important cablegram from London was received by Mr. St. John last evening, stating that Searle will row Gandaur in England or Australia. St. John makes a plucky reply. Tournament caused a big surprise by winning the great Eastern Handicap. He started 80 to 1.

According to a cablegram from London received by James A. St. John last evening, Henry Earnest Searle, the champion sculler of the world, has receded from his original position regarding rowing Jacob Gaudaur; in other words, the Australian has weakened. Some time ago he told Hanlan that if he defeated O'Connor he would row any American on his own water; and still more recently be has declared that he was ready to row either Teemer or Gaudaur in America for a substantial stake. When Mr. St. John heard of this he stated through this paper that he was ready at any time to match Gaudaur against Searle if the race took place in America and on a lake. This declaration reached London yesternay, and Searle at once put up a deposit with the London Sportsmon, and the manager of that paper cabled St. John last evening to the effect that Searle would row Gaudaur on the Thames in a month for $2,500 a side and allow expenses, otherwise he would row him on the Parametta.

WHAT ST. JOHN SAYS, When Mr. St. John read the cablegram he remarked with a smile: "Well, I'm sorry that Henry has weakened. Gaudaur will certainly not row him either on the Thames or Parametta for any money of day. The racing programme was very fair, mine. I have a strong love for rowing The deciding heat in the three-fourths of a and I am willing to spend money over my hobby, but I like to see a fair deal. I don't believe in either of the courses named, because I don't think a fair test of rowing ability can be obtained on them. Searle positively said the course of the cours be obtained on them. Searle positively said he would row Gandaur here, and I am still willing to put up $2,000 or $3,000 for him to row whiling to plat all the wins or loses to—Searle in America, whether he wins or loses to—morrow. I am prepared to go further, and say that I am disposed to match Gaudaur to row Searle on any English or Irish lake. The lakes of Killarney will suit me, or Windermere either.

of Killarney will suit me, or Windermere either. If Searle wants a race that is a fair race with Gandaur he will row on still water. If he de-cides to do this, he will find better still water ourses in America than anywhere else."
Mr. St. John's concession of being willing to

Mr. St. John's concession of being willing to city, N. J. city, N. J. row on an Irish or English lake is certainly one King Hiero, ch. s., J. Z. T. Robitzer, worthy the plucky and honest patron of sculling that he is. Nothing could be more commeniable and nothing more sportsmahlke. If Scarle is anything like the wonder he is sup-posed to be, he won't hesitate a moment in complying with St. John's terms; that is, if be, Searle, wants a fair race.

A SPLENDID COURSE.

Windermere Lake, in the west part of En gland, is a splendid sheet of water, and on it there is as fine a four-mile course as anybody would wish to row on. The veteran Jimmy Taylor has had many a "tussle" on the lake, and last evening he said: 'It is as fine a course as I ever rowed on. I'm certain that Gaudau id do some great sculling on it." However, now that a correspondence has commenced it is likely that a match will be made. Many people are of the opinion that Searle will certainly come to this country if he cannot get a race any other way.

Mr. St. John visited McKeesport yesterday and was rowed over the course by Dan Gould. The former was delighted with the course and spent considerable time in pulling "snags" from the river. Last evening he said: "I think Gaudanr a sure winner. His new boat suits him wall and he showed remarkable sneed yeshim well and he showed remarkable speed yes terday. I saw Teemer out also, John was rowing with extraordinary power, but he didn't seem to get much speed on his boat. All I have to say publicly is: The race is on its merits and I feel confident that Gandaur will win. That is my pointer, and the public can make of it what they chear?"

NOW FOR THE RACE.

Everything Rendy for the Big Contest-Gandaer Favorite in Pittsburg.

If the weather is fine to-day it is expected that a tremendous crowd will be at McKeesport | Park Association was opened to-day. A num to see the big race between Gandaur and Teemer, Everything is now ready for the race entered. The entries for all the events are except the appointing of two distance judges.

The sporting editor of this paper will be referee and he has appointed Mr. James A. St. John timekeeper. The latter gentleman cannot be surpassed as a trustworthy timekeeper. The race will start about 5 o'clock at Port Perry. Owing to the expected large numbers of steamers and other craft, it is likely that the rowers will consent to start without the stake boats. It is feared the o'clock, and he will rest at that place unti starting time. Teemer may do the same. It is earnestly desired that nobody will in any way whatever interfere with the rowers during th race, and it is particularly expected that all the small craft will be kept well out of the way the contestants. The betting, so far, has not been heavy, but a large amount of money will likely be invested to-day. In Pittsburg Gaudaur is favorite. Trains will leave the Baltimore and Ohio depot at various times during the day for the course. Excursion rates only will be charged.

Teemer in an interview yesterday said:
"Some outside parties are trying to make money out of our race. There is a certain boat that will follow the race and the parties con-rolling her refuse to pay one cent toward the expenses of the contest. This is not right and I hope the public will think as I think. Billy Gorman, a well-known admirer of aquatics, said last evening that he was certain the race will be on its merits, and that Mr. St. John would certainly not be connected with anything dishonest. He thinks the best man will win and rather favors Teomer.

AN AUTHORITY'S OPINION.

An Eastern Paper's View of To-Day's Boat Race.

Referring to to-day's boat race, the New York Clipper says:
"Now that the race for the championship of "Now that the race for the championship of the world has been decided, lovers of rowing of the Treasury had received a telegram from will give their whole attention to the forth-coming race between John Teemer, of McKees-sellers have taken possession of a building on coming race between John Teemer, of McKeesport, Pa., and Jake Gaudaur, of St. Louis, Mo., both of whom have held the title of champion of America. The match is for $1,000 a side, and the final deposit, $800 from each side, was posted on September 6, at the office of This Pitts Burg Disparch, which is final stakeholder. At the same time the $300 allowed Gaudaur for expenses was handed to the latter. The distance to be rowed is four miles, straightaway, from Port Perry to a point almost opposite to McKeesport, on the Monongabela. Both men have been in careful training on the course during the week, and both express confidence in their ability to carry off the prize. Gandaur is a slight favorite in the betting notwith-standing the fact that the race is to be rowed canoning one fact that the race is to be rowed on waters most familiar to his opponent. Ed Haplan is expected to be present at the race, and both Gaudaur and Teemer have expressed their willingness to give him a race, in case he should wish another trial."

Great Eastern Handleap. NEW YORK, September 12-The Coney Island Jockey Club determined to hold races at Sheepshead Bay to-day, no matter what the condition of the weather was. The day was de-cidedly bad for racing; the rain was so blinding that the spectators could hardly see the start, and only occasionally could they distinguish the colors of the jockeys on the track. The track was fetlock deep with mud. The event of the day was the great Eastern handicap, for ST. JOHN'S MANLY OFFER which 20 horses started. The lottery of racing was admirably exemplified in the result. The in a match as cool as in practice. He is the holder of many trophies.

Budd was an lowa farmer before he took to professional shooting. In his first match he won a pair of wooden shoes for making the poorest score. He is such a snap shot that until a year ago he seldom used this second barrel at live birds. In his match with Graham he failed to shoot a grounded bird and it got away. The failure to fire the second shot cost him $1,500.

Edward Changes a Little.

TORONTO, September 11. - Ned Hanlan declares that O'Connor's defeat was no surprise to him except that O'Connor should have weakened so early in the race. "I expected he would lead Searle for a mile or a mile and a half. Searle is the best sculler I ever saw. You could not possibly have a man better made for scalling. I have watched him at his trials in Australia and know what he can do. People ask me what Searie has done. In reply I say that on public form Kemp beat Beach on the Paramatta river by six seconds in a mile, and Searle beat Kemp on the same course by ten seconds for the same distance. As for Searle's staying powers—why, the man never seems to tire."

Thinks She's a Ringer.

A local gentleman interested in horse racing returned from Wheeling yesterday, where he saw the 2.24 pace on Wednesday. He says the general opinion is that Effie Hardy, the winner, is a ringer. It is supposed that she's a Canadian mare that has been missing from home during the last week or two. The missing mare has a record of 2:19½. Effie Hardy beat her field at Wheeling almost out of sight.

BIGLER WAS THERE.

He Made a Speech at the County Democracy's Picnic-The Big Fight Over the State Treasurership is Opened.

The picnic of the County Democracy at Ross' Grove yesterday afternoon was a huge success. Over 3,000 people assembled in the woods along the West Penn road and partook of the hospitable cheer offered them by the generous Democrats. The weather smiled on the exercises of the day with her most pleasant aspect and nothing occurred to mar the festivities of the Teemer, Gaudaur and Searle, the three animals had been named, and the spectators quickly took sides-with their respective candidates. True, they did not make as good time as their namesakes, the oarsmen, but they created more merriment. Teemer won the race, with Gaudaur a good second and Scarle a very bad third. Considerable colat was added to the occasion by the presence of numerous prominent politicians. In fact, the pionic seemed to be a veritable love feast. The leaders of the county Democracy were there, of course, and so was D. O. Barr, Attorney Dick Johnson, but E. A. Bigler attracted most of the members of the club, and Mr. Bigler was called upon for a speech. His remarks were very brief, and announced simply that he was no orator, but he was in the fight to win. He was well received by the Pittsburg Democracy.

There is one man, however, who will have cause to regret the picnic.

William Doyle, who lives in the Tenth ward, is sorry that he attended the picnic of the County Democracy at Ross' grove yes-terday. He was assaulted by two men and terribly beaten. He was conveyed from the West Penn train, by the Twelith ward pa-trol wagon, to the West Penn Hospital. Dovle was able to talk, and said that he did not know his assailants. He will recover in time to attend the picnic next year.

The local club is expected to try a young pitcher from the East next week. Morris and Maul have been sent home from Washington, and Maul has instructions to get ready to pitch. Clarkson pitched and won two brilliant games from the Clevelands.

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, September 12 .- The Pittsburg team arrived here this morning from Philadelphia but they were unable to meet the Senators this afternoon, as a steady rain has prevailed here all day. When your correspondent called at the Arlington Hotel to-night Captain (Manager) Hanlon was surrounded by his players discussing the prospects for a double game to-morrow. All of the players are in good condition and anxious for a go at Arthur Irwin's lads. Staley was to have pitched to-day, so he will go in to-morrow, weather permitting. Morris will not be needed in the Senatorial series so he with Maul started back to Pittsburg this morning. Captain Hanlon has instructed Maul to practice pitching as he may be needed in the box before the season closes. Staley and Galvin will do the pitching here. and if a double game is played Sowders will officiate in the third game. The latter has not been used during the present trip for the reason that he was injured in the first New York game. He is recovering slowly and expects to take his regular turn in the box.

CARROLL'S BIG HITTING. Carroll will do most of the catching here as his batting is needed in every game, besides Miller is playing a strong right field and also hitting the ball well. The Deacon and Jack Rowe are playing in good form and the former is hitting the ball as well as he ever did. Captain Hanlon says his men realize that they have got to play good ball to down the Senators two out of three games, but they are full of ginger and confident of winning a majority of the games during the balance of the season. In explanation of his failure to play off a postponed game in Boston Captain Han-lon says he at first declined to play because his men were in poor shape, but he was afterward willing to accept a proposition providing extra financial inducements were offered. He informed them that they were looking for the championship, while the Pittsburgs looked at the matter from a purely business standpoint. Manager Hart declined to offer anything beyond the usual rates so the game was not played. Captain Hanlon is not stuck on the double game business, especially while traveling.

A NEW PITCHER COMING. He says the home club has a decided advantage over the visitors, as the latter are more or less broken up by constant change of water and surroundings. He attributes the ill luck of his team to overwork on the home grounds before starting East. While in Philadelphia he met a promising young pitcher who was to have been given a trial with a view to joining the team, but bad weather interfered, so he did the team, but bad weather interfered, so he did not get an opportunity to see what class of work he is capable of doing. The youngster may meet the club at Pittsburg next week, as Mr. Nimick thinks well of him.

During the present wet spell Arthur Irwin is up in New England looking for new Senatorial material. He is after a catcher, as it has been determined to keep Connie Mack on first base. The Senators are hitting the ball hard just now, and they are prepared to give the Pitts-burgers a warm reception.

Clevelands played two games to-day and the former won both. Clarkson pitched in both games and was more effective in the second than in the first. The fielding of the home team was brilliant in the extreme, only two fielding errors being made, and both of these in the first game. The batting of Nash, Quinn and McKean and the fielding of Smith and Gilks were the best features. Attendance, 3,176. Score:

A CALL TO CHRISTIANS

To Protest Against the Unveiling of the Bruno Statue at Rome-Cardinal Gibbons Issues a Pastoral Letter Upon the Subject.

BALTIMORE, September 12.-Cardinal Gibbons has issued a pastoral letter calling attention to the allocution of Pope Leo on the unveiling recently of a monument in Rome to the memory of Bruno. The letter will be read in the Catholic churches next Sunday. The Cardinal says:

memory of a wild theorizer, a shameless writer and denier of the divinity of Christ, from the declared in a loud voice that he was opobscurity of a grave that had for three centuries closed upon its disgrace, these men, backed by mere brute force, have set upon a pedestal in the Holy City the statue of the infamous Brune.

Such a proceeding is a palpable and flagrant such a proceeding is a parpaise and hagrant outrage, not alone upon the Catholic, but upon the whole Christian world. Its animus is clear in the unchristian and defiant language employed in the unveiling of the statue of a man whose whole life breathed cowardice, pride and defiance of lawfully constituted authority. Theirs is not the action of decent, honorable, but misguided men calmig and with due and the constitution of the control of but misguided men, calmly, and with due regard to the feelings of others, promulgating a belief, or introducing a new cult. Their attempt is not so much to honor Bruno, as to insultrand vilify the Vicar of Jesus Christ and his devoted children throughout Christendom. Indeed, their aim is higher still; they defy and insult not alone His Vicar, but our divine Lord himself. From every land they have chosen as the committee to further the movement the champions of atheism, the would-be destroyers of the very foundations of Christianity. It is proper that the Christian world, and especially this portion, where the term "religious freedom" is understood in a sober, Christian sense, should brand with their indignant scorn action such as this. We are not but misguided men, calmly, and with due renant scorn action such as this. We are not yet ready for processions in which the red and black flags of revolutionists and Anarchists are defaulty flamined.

The end of the remarkable search for jarors, while still a long way off, is rapidly coming into view. The defense used up eight peremptories during the day.

This is the most progress made in a single day since the trial began. The prisoners still have 54 more peremptories. With the present revised line of questioning and the firm stand taken by Judge McConnell as to the qualification of a juror who had an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, but who swears that he can lay this opinion aside and give the men a fair trial, a jury ought to be secured before the end of but still I challenge him for Burke.

Thirty-four venire men were examined to-day. Most of them were business men who had formed opinions or had conscien-tious scruples against the infliction of the death penalty. Those who were so preju-diced against the prisoners that they couldn't lay aside their opinions were hurriedly hauled out of the box, but an intelli-gent juror who was confident that he could render an impartial verdict, despite his present views, was not dismissed until the defense exercised their right of peremptory challenge.

This ruling by the Court created considerable consternation among Attorney For-rest and his colleagues, but the Court was firm. An exception was taken to the overruling of each of these challenges. Farmer James Pearson, who does not wear a necktie of any kind, now looks like a possible juror. He has been passed repeatedly by both sides and slept to-night for the third time under the espionage of a big bailiff. Three other jurors were held over night, but there are no assurances that they will be kept tomorrow. Two of them are real estate dealers with strong faces and unbiased minds.

S. V. Cornish was one of the two talesmen who created anything like a sensation in

THE FIRST OF HIS KIND. E. D. Wills, a baldheaded Irishman from County Clare, when asked if he had formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoners, replied that he was satisfied that the State had not got one of the murderers. This frank announcement, the first of its kind since the weary trial began, amused the spectators. Burke, who was reading a newspaper at the time, turned his crimson face upon the strange juror. Then he laughed incredulously and watched Mr. Wills with unfeigned amazement. The juror made the same response three times. He was finally excused for cause, the Court drawing from him the admission that he could not be convinced by the evidence that the five men on trial had anything to do with the murder of Dr. Cronin. During the examination of veniremen at the afternoon session Clown Kunze crossed his legs and rolled an unlighted eigar tween his jaws. He is getting tired of the delay. He said to-day that he was willing to risk his chances with a jury composed of Chinamen. The thirteenth and fourteenth venires were issued to-day. The State used one of its peremptories at the afternoon session. It still has 81 to its credit. SIR EDWIN ARNOLD'S PROGRAMME.

NEW YORK, September 12.—At the Rein Chicago on June 19, 1888, Mr. John Sherman, of Ohio, was a frantic candidate for the nomination for President, as he had often been years and years before. Mr. Channey M. Depew, of New York, was also a candidate in a good-natured way. In the wire-pulling of the affair, though, Mr. Depew had a strong held on the string that finally brought Mr. Sherman from the crest of the hill, and Mr. Sherman has neither forgotten the affair nor forgiven the accom-plished gentleman who did it. The Assailants of Brakemen Cox and Nichols Caught at Coshocton. Hampton Houghton, chief of the Pennsvlvanja Railroad detectives, went yesterday to Coshocton, O., accompanied by Jesse Nichols. The latter was one of the freight brakemen who was assaulted by tramps at Wall's station last Friday. Three men were arrested at Coshocton on Monday for the arrested at Coshocton on Monday for the shooting of Marshal Hagans, of that town, and their descriptions tallied with the tramps who assaulted Cox and Nichola. The brakeman identified the men as his assailants. Detective Houghton said that the tramps had, on Friday morning, robbed the hardware store of A. C. Smith & Co., at Jeannette, It was because they were anxious to get away from that neighborhood that they made so desperate a fight on the train. The revolvers which they used on Cox and Nichols were atolen from Smith's store. Mr. Houghton believes that the prisoners belong to a gang of robbers and highwaymen who have for two years been committing depredations in Westmoreland county, and he thinks they are responsible for the murder of a merchant named St. Clair, at Wilkinsburg, last spring.
